

Chapter 24. Interrogative Sentences

Exercise. Mr A.K. Gupta's car stereo has been stolen from his car parked near his house. So he reports the theft to the police. After having written the report, the Sub-Inspector (S.I.) wants to confirm that he has written down everything correctly. First read the report and then fill in the blanks with suitable question tags to complete his dialogue with Mr Gupta:

Property stolen	: Car stereo	I reached home around 10 p.m. and parked my car in front of my house. As usual, I left the stereo in the car itself. I took my dinner and watched TV for some time. At 11:30 p.m., I had a look at my car. Everything was all right. But next morning at 6 a.m., when I was going for a walk, I found the car unlocked and the car stereo missing. Two other neighbours said that stereo systems were missing from their cars too. My car stereo is not insured.
